

GENERAL MILLS

7 June 2007

We have been fortunate enough to have partnered with Dattner Grant for over five years now. They are our sole partner providing leadership development programs to our business.

Dattner Grant run a four tiered program which touches our top fifty leaders. It is by far the most outstanding leadership program we have seen in our business and I have seen in my career. The feedback from participants is consistently "this is the best program that I have taken part in" which says a lot given we employ many talented people who have experienced programs from their prior roles in some of our most esteemed peer FMCG companies.

Dattner Grant offer flexibility of programs and offerings and a true partnership approach which allow us to tailor our leadership program. They have also provided us with expert facilitation on business strategy sessions.

Jim, Fabian and the rest of their team create a unique approach to leadership development. Their content and facilitation is second to none and we are proud of our association with them.
